Genmar Yacht Group welcomes Singleton Marine Group as new Marquis® dealer

Green Bay, WI – June 22, 2009: Genmar Yacht Group recently welcomed Singleton Marine Group www.singletonmarinegroup.com as their Marquis Yachts dealer serving areas within Georgia, South Carolina and Alabama. Singleton Marine was founded in 1989 by Phillip and Linda Singleton and is currently led by their son Austin Singleton who serves as president of the organization. They serve their market area through their seven retail locations.

“Genmar Yacht Group is very excited to have a well established, high quality organization like Singleton Marine Group representing Marquis Yachts. For the past twenty years they have been providing outstanding service to boating enthusiasts throughout the Southeastern states. Their experience selling and servicing premium quality products make them perfectly suited to represent Marquis.” stated Robert VanGrunsven, President of Genmar Yacht Group. Singleton Marine group recently was recognized as the #3 dealer in the nation in Boating Industry magazine’s listing of Top 100 Dealers which validates their continued commitment to provide superior service to their customers.

Singleton Marine Group will represent the entire Marquis fleet of products including the recently unveiled Marquis 500 Sport Bridge which, like all Marquis products, was designed by the noted firm of Nuvolari-Lenard Naval Design of Venice, Italy. The new Marquis 500 Sport Bridge is a three stateroom performance yacht with sweeping lines and a widely variable selection of living and entertaining environments. This new yacht provides its owners and passengers with thrilling handling and performance provided by triple Volvo diesel engines and innovative joystick controlled IPS pod drives. The hull of the 500 Sport Bridge was designed and tested specifically to take advantage of the IPS drive system. Singleton Marine is expecting delivery of a Marquis 500 Sport Bridge in mid summer, 2009.
