Flexiteek Synthetic Teak Decking wins Patent Protection Lawsuit

On Friday June 19th, in the United States District Court, Southern District of Florida, along with a jury of eight individuals ruled in favor of Flexiteek in its patent infringement against PlasTEAK and PlasDECK. The case was filed in June 2008, alleging that the Tek-Dek products formerly imported and sold by PlasTEAK, as well as PlasDECK's current line of synthetic teak decking products infringe upon Flexiteek's United States Patent Number 6,895,881.

An injunction is being issued prohibiting PlasTEAK and PlasDECK from making, marketing and selling the infringing products. The injunction will also apply to all the PlasDeck distributors and installers.

Flexiteek is the original synthetic and environmental marine decking system with a surprising similarity to teak. Made of modern composite materials, Flexiteek is low maintenance giving aesthetics and anti skid performance to your deck. The product is offered with black or white caulk lines and carries a 5 year warranty. APF Marine Group is the master distributor of Flexiteek in the NY, NJ and CT region.
